Nation's Labor Outlook Improves

Total of Idle Falls to 357,000 As Westinghouse Strike Ends

Telephone Workers Threaten "Demonstration
Shutdown;" Oil Strike
Conference To Resume

Republicans Ask
20 Per Cent Cut
In Income Levies

The nation's labor disputes outlook improved definitely today with an end voted to one of the largest single work stoppages—nearly 38,000
"white collar" employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

This reduced the total number of idle to about 357,000 persons.
The walkout began September 9
by the Federation of Westinghouse Employees in a demand for a bonus
or incentive wage plan and spread to fourteen plants and offices in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Maryland and Ohio. It ended yesterday (Sunday)
when about 10,000 union members voted in favor of returning to their jobs.

Company officials announced operations could be resumed today and added representatives would meet Tuesday with the union to discuss wages, hours, and working conditions in addition to the bonus issue,
which is under jurisdiction of the War Labor Board.

5,000 Oilmen Return
The Oil Workers International Union (CIO) withdrew picket lines
which had blocked the Standard Oil Company refinery at Whiting, Ind., permitting some 5,000 CIO and independent union members to return to their jobs. Ralph Gates, of Indiana, had "alerted" state guard troops after local Whiting authorities asked for aid in keeping order.

More than 15,000 building service
employees, including elevator operators, returned to work in New York City in compliance with Gov. Thomas Dewey's request for arbitration of wages and hours grievances. This action permitted about 1,500,000 office workers to resume their duties in the tall buildings. Gov. Dewey named former New York State Court Justice George Frankenthaler
as arbitrator in the dispute.

Conversely, a newly-threatened
"demonstration shutdown" by members of the National Federation of Telephone Workers (independent)
arose out of a National Labor Relations Board recommendation to establish the Western Electric Employees' Association, a federation branch. About 200,000 telephone workers would be affected, union
officials estimated, over the nationwide Bell Telephone System and American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Oil Conference To Continue
Western Electric is a major supplier of telephone equipment for both systems. Dissolution of the 36-000-member employees' association was recommended on grounds that it was dominated by Western Electric.

Conciliation conferences between officials of the CIO Oil Workers International Union and major companies, which began in Chicago last week and shifted to Washington,
were adjourned until today after a day-long Sunday session had produced few prospects for early agreement on disputed wage rate increases.

Other management-labor disputes
throughout the nation were unsettled. They affected about 65,000 lumber workers in half a dozen states; 100,000 automotive
workers, most of whom were in the Detroit area; 40,000 miners, most of whom were in Pennsylvania and West Virginia; and 50,000 textile workers mostly in the Newark, N. J., area.

New Type of Atomic Bomb May Be Used if Warship Test Is Ordered

BY ELTON C. FAY
(Associated Press News Analyst)
If Congress orders a test of atomic explosion on warships a new bomb
may be used in the experiment.

The two used to crumple Hiroshima and Nagasaki were designed specifically for that job—a lateral blast effect to destroy buildings.
The experts say something different will be needed to produce the most efficient results against naval craft.
What they seem to contemplate
something on the order of a deep-sea atomic bomb, sinking the ship underwater before it lets go with a cataclysmic explosion to rush the hulls of even the mightiest ships. They think that to explode
an atomic bomb at or just above
the surface would be an ineffective
use of the weapon—but agree it would produce terrible results
if a ship and its personnel
were previously expressed series were given point over the weekend by the demand of Sen.
J. (D-Ala.) that the navy be instructed to prepare surrendered

Japanese naval ships for a test. Hill said Congress needs the facts to help it decide on naval appropriations.

The influence of the atomic bomb
development on the future shape
of the navy is only one of the many that have emerged from the ruins of the two Japanese cities
last August.

The whole makeup of the defensive
and offensive system for land operations will need revising by the military leaders. Army men counsel caution, however. Former Secretary of War Stimson says the full implications of the bomb are not yet known; that we must not make early and fast assumptions that the days of armies and navies are over.
But Congress, which provides the funds for armies and navies, wants to know now. Hill's proposal is not the only one. Rep. Amden (R-Ill.)
demands that a commission make a broad-scale inquiry into the whole matter, saying he has been informed that atomic bombs of vastly greater power than those so far used have been developed.

Coal Operators Reject New UMW Bid for Meeting

Managers Say Union Ignored Demands that
Strikers Return

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30 (AP)—The National Bituminous Coal Operators
Negotiating committee today declined a second request by John L.
Lewis for a conference on a dispute
of mine foremen which has kept idle some 36,000 workers.

Ezra Van Horn, chairman of the committee, said a second telegram from the president of the United Mine Workers "ignoring our demands that the strikers must return to work before we would meet with him on the dispute and merely reiterating Lewis's request for an immediate conference."

Supervisory employees organized into a branch of the UMW in Pennsylvania and West Virginia walked out September 24 to enforce demands for collective bargaining rights for their group. Their absence has kept thousands of miners idle and forced many mines to close.

In a telegram to Lewis, Van Horn
declared:
"Your second telegram evades the request of the operators that the mines on strike return to work.
Only under such circumstances can
a calm approach in joint conference be initiated."

"For the good of the miners, operators and our common country we request you again to call off this illegal and unwarranted strike."
"Your own fiscal records disclosed that only 915 managerial employees
out of a total of 25,000 such employees in contract mines were members of your so-called supervisory union. Your demonstration strike, planned for months, has only brought out 2,300 supervisors, or less than ten per cent of the total number."

"A majority of these have been compelled to cease work by coercion,
intimidation and personal assault
incited and exercised by local leaders and paid officers of the United Mine Workers of America."

"Your failure in this effort is now
to be rectified by your very thinlydisguised advice to the production workers to strike and thus compel other supervisors to stay away from work and duty."

"If you will inform the members
of your union and its officers that your policy is to return these mines
to work, the operators' Negotiating committee will, upon the return of the men to work, resume its sessions
with your union to seek a solution of the controversy."

Allies To Give Up Italian Control

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—
All Italy, with the exception of small areas along the Yugoslav border, will be turned back to Italian control late this fall by the Allied commission.

The commission, announcing this today in connection with the release of a report on military government in Italy, said that even now
all but a half dozen compartments in the north are back in Italian hands.

These compartments are Liguria, Piemonte, Lombardia, Venezia Tridentina, Veneto and part of Vene-zia Giulia. Small portions of some of these compartments will remain under Allied commission direction
for a time after return of the rest of the country to the Italians, the announcement said.

It added that the "pruning down
of the Allied commission, in preparation for the day when it will be dissolved and Italy will be on her own, already has begun." The political section of the commission has been abolished, with political advice now being given to the Italians by the British and American embassies.

Boy Is Killed when Gun Is Accidentally Fired

SALISBURY, Md., Sept. 30 (AP)—
Chief of Police William J. Chatham reported today that 7-year-old Bobby Lee Day, Salisbury, was fatally wounded yesterday when a pistol with which he was playing in a back yard near his home accidentally went off.

Chatham said the boy, son of Mrs. Martha Day, was found by neighbors who heard the shot. The ownership of the gun had not been determined, the chief of police said.

Baltimore, Sept. 30 (AP)—Members
of Local 239, United Automobile Workers (CIO), employees at the General Motors Corporation's Fisher
body plant here voted overwhelmingly today to join the national union's strike for a thirty-per cent wage increase. Local President Anthony Palmer reported.

READY TO CONFER with State department officials and President Truman on the totalitarian situation in Argentina, United States Ambassador Spruille Braden, who has returned to take over the post of assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin-American affairs, is shown with his daughter, Laurita, as he arrived in the capital.

Fight To Merge Army and Navy Looms in House

By CLAIR JOHNSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Congressmen who want to merge the army and navy will try this week
to make such a consolidation part of any projected government reorganization.

They disclosed today that a fight
will be waged on the House floor
beginning Wednesday when a bill
to reorganize the government structure is called up for debate.

Aroused by statements against the merger by key committee chairmen
last week, the legislators who want
a permanent joint command told
a reporter they will:

1. Try to amend the government reorganization bill to authorize the merger.

2. Telegraph President Truman asking him to request the merger
legislation before the vote is taken.
Rep. Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.), a leader in the fight for a unified command, said in an interview the telegram will remind
Mr. Truman of his recently-announced plan for a message to Congress on the merger proposal and ask him to send it to Capitol Hill
now.

Randolph added that he is convinced the president wants the merger "in order to insure an end
to overlapping and other inefficiency due to duplication of command and lack of co-ordination."

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.)
and Andrew May (D-Ky.) of the House Naval and Military committees, respectively, both spoke out against the proposed merger only a few days ago.

Commenting on the Vinson and May statements, Randolph said that a philosophy represents an attitude of "sticking your head in the sand."

The Pearl Harbor disaster and other cases, he said, have shown the need for a single command.

charge, leave or reassignment.

Reporters Inspect Late President's Shangri-La

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
THURMONT, Md., Sept. 30 (AP)—
Reporters got an inside view today
of historic Shangri-La, wartime
mountain retreat of Franklin D.
Roosevelt.

White House attaches serving as guides in the first public inspection
said President Truman was never visited the famous camp.

Whether he will use it next summer has not been decided, although Mrs. Truman once spent an hour looking it over.

Two thousand feet above the level of the Potomac river in the Catoctin mountains and three miles from this Maryland community, Shangri-La is a seventy-mile automobile
drive from the White House.

Originally camp No. 3 in the Ca-toclin recreational area built by CCC boys as a part of their national forest work, it was taken over by Mr.
Roosevelt in July, 1942, as a weekend spot when the navy felt it best for him to abandon the use of his yacht for wartime security reasons.

Navy officers said they forbade
Mr. Roosevelt to use his yacht for fear of enemy bombing in that critical period of the war.

Medical officers insisted on a spot
with a 2,000-foot altitude that was within a two-hour automobile drive of Washington.

Food Situation Is Grave, World Survey Reveals

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The world faces more hunger in its first twelve months of peace than during the last year-long period of the war.

This, in brief, is the summary of a world-wide survey of the food situation just completed by the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations, and made public today.

The agency, part of the Department of Agriculture, estimated that more than 35,000,000 tons of food will have to be moved into deficit areas including former enemy countries
such as Germany, Austria and Italy
—through commercial and relief programs if acute hunger is to be prevented.

City areas in countries producing less than their needs, face particularly grave prospects, the survey noted.

This years total world farm output of food, in terms of calories,
was estimated at about three per cent less than the pre-war 1935-39
average. But when allowance is made for the net increase in world population during the war years, per capita world production is down
about ten per cent, the report said.

The agency declared a serious
tightening of the general world food situation between now and 1946 harvests is indicated by lowered farm production, sharply-reduced reserve
stocks of all major food products,
and disrupted collection and distribution systems.

Supplies of rice, sugar, fats and oils have fallen somewhat below
last year's low levels and much below those of the prewar years, the report said. Wheat supplies, while larger than the prewar average have declined to the lowest point in recent years.

The problem of providing aid for shortage areas is being complicated, the report added, by a lack of financing.

Russians Refuse U. S. Compromise On Balkan Pacts

Hopes for Peace Solutions
Dwindle as Conference
Nears End

BY JOHN A. FAERIS

LONDON, Monday, Oct. 1 (AP)—
The five-power conference of foreign ministers worked for an hour past midnight today and then announced
another session would be held tonight.

It appeared the ministers would
wind up their first meeting tonight,
perhaps without a solution to the conference's biggest problem—procedure for writing the Balkan peace
treaties.

It was learned that the Russians have refused the latest and most liberal American compromise, offering to acquiesce in the Soviet demand that only Russia, the United States and Britain write the Balkan pacts, providing assurances are given there will be a full-fledged
peace parity later.

The Russians objection to the compromise, and a corollary proposal that all belligerents against the Nazis meet to talk over Balkan issues before drafting of peace pacts, led most observers to believe the conference would adjourn while the three major countries carried on negotiations through diplomatic channels.

On the basis of information from conference sources that the ministers of the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France and China
intended to conclude their talks
tonight, diplomatic quarters predicted the Balkan issue would remain unsettled.

However, it was understood that the overall communique would announce several agreements reached during the twenty days of deliberations.

These reasons were cited by some conference delegates for the apparent failure to agree on major problems:

1—Lack of preparation, particularly advance exchanges of views
before the London sessions began.

2—Three of the foreign ministers
—James F. Byrnes, of the United States; Ernest Bevin, of Britain, and Wang Shih-chieh, of China—
are new in their jobs.

3—Alleged Russian sensitivity over publicity at the war's end and the powerful economic and military position of the United States with Russia pictured as weaker.

Progress Is Made At Chinese Parley

By CLYDE FARNSWORTH

CHUNGKING, Monday, Oct. 1 (AP)—
The Chinese Communists and Kuomintang Nationalist government at last have stepped beyond generalities toward a concrete solution of China's unification problem
after a month of dickering in which questions of Russian and American policies figured and may still figure tactically.

Despite pledges of official secrecy
exchanged by the negotiators pending a final agreement, it is known that they have decided to retain the All-Party Political Council with broad final powers to deal with outstanding civil issues between the Kuomintang and the Communists
until a constitutional government is instituted through a national assembly. They also are seeking a formula for solution of critical military questions.

From what is known of the tangled negotiations, it is apparent to more than one observer that the Communists' ace in the hole has been the unanswered question of what support Red China might draw from Russia if the Communists should persist in their demands for virtual autonomy to the point
of forcing a face-saving civil war.

Sen. Tydings Criticizes Full Employment Bill

BALTIMORE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Sen.
Tydings said today that the revised full employment bill which the Senate has sent to the House provides no definite and specific program and "is neither as good as its proponents claim nor as bad as its opponents seem to feel."

In a radio broadcast, the senator said that the "high generalities" of the bill could be interpreted to mean almost anything its proponents desired.

U. S. Marines Move
Into North China
Political Hotspot

BY SPENCER DAVIS

TIENTSIN, China, Sept. 30 (AP)—
The United States First Marine Division entered Tientsin today to assume police duties in Northern China's political hotspot, where Chinese Nationalists and Communists are at bayonet points and a Japanese army is yet to surrender
and be disarmed.

Cheering, flag-waving Chinese lined the banks of the Hai river
as the leathernecks division, which had won glory at Guadalcanal, Palau and Okinawa, moved twenty-eight miles upstream from Taku.

The Marines, charged with assisting Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist troops in disarming 250,000 Japanese troops in North China, were put ashore at Taku by Vice Adm. D. E. Barbey's Seventh amphibious force.

Pending the arrival of Nationalist forces strong enough to take full control of the area, the Marines,
aside from helping disarm strikers
from an army of Japs still arrogantly aware of the fact they have never been defeated in battle, will undertake the following chores:

1—Liberate and give comfort to 2,900
Allied prisoners of war and civilian internees; keep an eye on 232,000
Chinese puppet troops between the Yangtze river and the Great Wall;
arrest war criminals; guard and care for 200,000 Japanese civilians
who had moved into the area since
the Japanese aggression of 1937,
and protect United States nationals,
property and records.

The end of the war has brought little peace or security to North China. In the past six weeks there have been pitched battles between Japanese regulars supported by Chinese puppet troops and well-armed "Pai" units purporting to be soldiers of the Chinese Communist Eighth route army.

Most of the letters will be off

ment of the controlled materials

terials for war production.

Proclamation Urged To Publicize Vote Law

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 30 (AP)— Governor O'Connor was asked by the Maryland League of Women Voters to remind new citizens that, under the state's declaration of intention law, Nov. 6 is the last day on which they may make a declaration to vote
in next year's elections.

Mrs. Lincoln Clark, College Park,
state chairman of the league's committee on the law, wrote the governor suggesting he call special attention to the time limit.

"There are doubtless many ways
for you to achieve this publicity, but we should like to suggest respectfully that a public proclamation on your part is one of the most effective," the letter said.

The law provides that new Maryland residents over 21 just swear
that they intend to become citizens of the state one year before they are eligible to vote.

Additional Wartime Controls To End Today

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—
America can step up its already swift reconversion pace when additional wartime controls are pulled off tomorrow.

Slated for discard Monday are most controls on metals, other critical materials and component parts;
restrictions on lumber sales, transportation and distributed of petroleum products in East and West coast
sections, and bans on holding conventions and fairs.

Most of the letters will be off
heavy industry with the abolish-
ment of the controlled materials

terials for war production.

Ball Proposes GOP Program Keyed To New Policy on Labor Relations

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Sen.
Ball (R-Minn.) proposed today that congressional Republicans build a legislative program around seven proposals keyed to a new labor relations law and policy.

Minority members of both houses
are busy assembling what they hope will be a concrete Republican program to offer the voters in 1946 congressional elections.

Ball, regarded as a member of the so-called liberal element of the party, told a reporter he has boiled
his ideas down to these seven points:

1. Repeal of taxes that keep venture capital from providing full employment.
2. Enactment of a labor relations act fixing the responsibility of unions and management to keep their contracts; providing also for complete use of peaceful means of ending disputes before there is a strike or lockout.
3. No extension of the OPA.
4. Strengthening of the anti-trust laws. Unions made subject to them.
5. Drafting of a plan to balance the federal budget by a specific date
—1948 or 1949.
6. Giving scientific research first priority under budget expenditures.
7. Early development of a national defense program as a whole, "including unification of forces, manpower supply, bases, research, supply
and all other related problems."

Events in Brief

The regular meeting of the Cresaptown Homemakers Club was held Thursday evening in the Cresaptown Methodist church. Mrs. Karl Ziegler presided at the business session and plans were made for the group to attend the County Achievement Day dinner, October 4, in the Centre Street Methodist church hall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Robinson, Willis Creek avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Santore, 114 Decatur street, entertained classmates of their sons, Nicholas Robinson and Pat Santore, at a joint birthday party at the Condon Kindergarten, 111 Hanover street, Friday afternoon.

The first fall games day program to be held by the local Girl Scout program committee was held Saturday afternoon on the lawn of the Girl Scout house, under the direction of Mrs. J. Gordon Mitchell. A program of sports was held continuously during the afternoon.

The Bedford Road Homemakers Club will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Leslie Brinkman, Christie road, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. W. C. Strickland will preside.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Central Y.M.C.A. will hold its first meeting of the fall season in the form of a dinner Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. John Zimmerman will preside. Officers will be elected.

The Homemakers Chorus will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. C. Lancaster, LaVale.

Manhattan Temple, No. 8, Pythian Sisters, will meet at 7:30 o'clock this evening at Junior Order hall, Polk street. Following the meeting the Past Chiefs will be entertained.

The Ladies Aid Society of Allegheny hospital will resume its fall meetings Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the hospital.

The Central Y.M.C.A. Club will meet this evening at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Robert Martin, Cresaptown. The Dorcas Bible Class of Emmanuel Methodist church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. Clara Price, Ella avenue.

306 Are Registered In "Rec" Club

A total of 335 boys and girls attended the weekly "Rec" club dance at Central Y.M.C.A. Friday evening, and 306 were registered for membership in the club for the 1945-46 season. Mrs. George T. Woodworth reported Friday night.

Mrs. Woodworth was in charge of a team of local women who handled registrations both last Friday and yesterday. Last week 312 new members were registered. Current memberships expired yesterday.

Those who assisted Mrs. Woodworth in handling registrations are the Misses Louise Cornell, Barbara Croyle, Dorothy Spiker, Mildred Davis, Dorothy Campbell, Mary Pat Brett, Cora Richards, Nancy Taylor, Kathleen Cumbee, and Claire Lavesay, and Mrs. Peter G. Ervin.

Robert L. Sisson, general Y.M.C.A. secretary, said that over 1700 members were registered in the "Rec" club between September 30, 1944 and August 30 of this year. Today will mark the beginning of the club's third year.

Meeting Is Planned By University Women

The American Association of University Women are making a study of ways of placing and treating children who have been deprived of their homes. In order to further thinking on this matter, the group will sponsor a meeting on the subject with the co-ordinating council, November 16, in the West Side school.

Milton Patterson, director of the Maryland Department of Public Welfare, and Paul Velser, of the child welfare bureau of the department of Labor, will be asked to attend the meeting.

It was erroneously reported at the Woman's Civic Club meeting that the A. A. U. W. has taken over the detention home project. The group has not taken over the project, but members are interested and willing to do all possible to co-operate with the formation of the home. Mrs. William Robert Teeter, president of the A. A. U. W., has announced.

Faithful Workers Meet

A meeting of the Faithful Workers Class of Kingsley Methodist church was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Thelma Wigle, 412 Park street. Mrs. Freda Seiler was co-hostess.

Group singing opened the devotional and Mrs. Weiler read Psalm 62. An article was read by Mrs. Ruby Kirk and closing prayers were offered by the hostesses. Refreshments were served.

A Halloween party for the group will be held October 25, at the home of Mrs. Lillian Ford, 612 Elm street.

POINT REWARD FOR USED FATS DOUBLED

4 points instead of 2 for every pound!

EVERY one of you housewives in America, in your own kitchen, can speed the return of larger supplies of soaps and all the peacetime things you've been waiting for so long. You can do it by saving more used fats... every drop you can scrape or skim. It's as urgently needed as ever. So keep doing it, won't you?

You women of America have done a magnificent job of saving used fats during the war, but victory has not ended the need. The fat supply for the manufacture of soap and other long-wanted products is millions of pounds less in 1945 than it was in 1944. That is why the government offers four ration points instead of two for every pound of used fats you turn in.

By skimming, scooping and scraping every last drop of used fat and turning it in to your butcher, you can help increase your own home supplies of soaps, soap flakes and powders more quickly. And not only soaps. But the nylons, cottons, electric washers, irons, refrigerators, automobiles and hundreds of other peacetime products we've all been waiting for. These fats you save in your kitchen are urgently needed to help get these things back into production... and back to you... more quickly.

So won't you keep up the good work now in peacetime? You'll help fill your own needs for soaps and speed the production of the civilian goods you're dreaming of. Remember, every drop of used fat is still vitally important. Keep saving, won't you?

Your Used Fats help make the Peacetime Products you want

Hospital Groups Intensify Drive For Needed Funds

Promoters of Meyersdale Project Will Receive Recognition

By W. A. SHOEMAKER
MEYERSDALE, Pa., Sept. 30.—Beginning next week the officers and finance committee of the community hospital promoters will submit for publication in the local newspaper a list of contributors, showing the amount each has contributed.

The names of about fifty donors showing the amount contributed will be published each week until the entire list is published and enough money realized to start the erection of the building.

Since the announcement of the selection of the site for the proposed hospital, a number of additional subscriptions have been made, but not in sufficient number and size to increase the total amount reported by the committee at its last meeting.

It is hoped that many individuals and organizations who have indicated that they are interested in securing a hospital for Meyersdale, who intend to make contributions and have not yet done so, would act promptly.

Contributions and pledges may be forwarded to B. W. Shipley or to either of the Meyersdale banks.

Held Special Services
There was a large attendance at the memorial-victory services sponsored by the citizens of Garrett this afternoon.

At 2:30 p. m. there was a parade of members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, visiting and discharged veterans of World War II, civic organizations, and Sunday school and day school pupils.

The main feature was the memorial service for the men from the Garrett community who were killed at war. The guest speaker was Post Chaplain Arthur M. Abplanalp, Indianopolis military center.

The service closed with a military salute to the dead and the singing of the national anthem by a union choir under the direction of Mrs. C. D. Fritz.

Announce Marriage
Mr. and Mrs. John Seigner, Meyersdale, announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Seigner, and Cpl. George Edward Pfeiffer, son of Charles Pfeiffer, Hyndman, and the late Mrs. Pfeiffer.

The ceremony was performed September 16 in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Cumberland, by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox.

Mrs. Estelle Pfeiffer was matron of honor and William Pfeiffer was the bride's best man. The bride was attired in a beige suit with which she wore brown accessories and a corsage of tulle and roses.

She is a graduate of the Meyersdale high school, class of 1937, and has been living with Mrs. Anna Hammond in Cumberland. She also completed the Red Cross nurse's aid course in Cumberland.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the Hyndman high school, has been in the military service since November 27, 1942. He received his basic training with the army signal corps, in California, before being sent to the European theater where he served two years.

The couple left after the ceremony for a short honeymoon trip, after which the bride will reside at the home of Mrs. Anna Hammond, 323 Louisiana avenue, Cumberland, until her husband receives his honorable discharge.

Personal Items

Two Divorce Suits Are Filed Here
Mrs. Edith Cavey Younklin, 19 Grant street Frostburg, has filed suit in circuit court for a partial divorce from H. C. Younklin and also asks for the custody of their daughter, aged 8. Her attorney, Paul M. Fletcher, said they were married in 1926 in Frostburg and lived together until September 18 of this year.

Associate Judge Walter C. Capper ordered Younklin to pay his wife $50 a month alimony pending a decision in the case and restrained him from entering the home or molesting his wife.

Mrs. Lillian A. Read, Cumberland, filed suit for divorce from John William Read, said to be a non-resident of Maryland. She also asks the custody of their two daughters, aged 15 and 12. Her attorney, Robert MacDonald Bruce, said they were married in 1929 at Wellsburg, W. Va., and lived together until 1936.

Mrs. Madeylin Emily Burns filed an equity action against John Charles Burns, William S. Jenkins is her counsel.

Mineral License Bureau Keeps Busy

Hunting, Fishing Sales Total $1,467.50 for New Record

By LUKE McDOWELL

KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 29.—The license bureau of the office of Mineral county court had the busiest day in its history Friday when fees in the sum of $1,467.50 were received for hunting licenses alone, Harry O. Rogers, clerk, said.

The sale of hunting and fishing licenses has been high for the past several weeks.

In September 1,507 licenses were sold for which $3,772 in fees was received. One thousand three hundred were resident hunting and fishing, 160 non-resident, thirty-four tourist fishing, seven non-resident fishing and six duplicates for licenses lost.

Present "Pep Parade"
The "Pep Parade," a local talent play sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, was given before a large audience in the school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights.

Mrs. Lillian Dayton presided at the piano and Miss Frum, Keyser high school, gave an acrobatic performance.

The scene of the play was laid in the Peck household and featured a professional fortune teller and a fake fortune teller.

Some of the characters were Susan Watson as Gussie Peck; Brown Kookan as Henry Peck; Toni Dayton as Judy Peck; Tommy Conkon as Tommy Meadows and Ira E. Lease as Keith Traveling.

To Give Play
"Rip Van Winkle," a play sponsored by the Keyser branch of the American Association of University Women, will be given in the school auditorium at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday.

The play is produced and directed by the Clara Tree Major New York cast, and presents the story of Rip Van Winkle in three acts.

Discharged from Service
The following have recently been discharged from service:
Radioman 1-c Marion Tobias Stickle, Moorefield Junction, September 25 at Washington, after having served thirty-four months; Pfc. Church Board Organizes
The official board of First Methodist church met and organized for the year by electing J. Clark Sanders, chairman; Simeon M. Bright, vice chairman, and Mrs. Virginia Umstot, secretary.

Other officers are Dr. E. V. Romig, treasurer; Joseph E. Prettyman, financial secretary, and Simeon M. Bright, chairman finance committee.

Pursuant to the general program of the Methodist church in the "Crusade for Christ" movement, church evangelism will be stressed through this year. To carry that program forward successfully, the pastor, the Rev. O. H. Dorsey, and Simeon M. Bright and James E. Peters were named as a committee to formulate plans for the local church.

Personal Items
Miss May Arnold, Burlington, former teacher in the Keyser elementary and junior high schools, spent the weekend with Mrs. Katherine Davis.

Mrs. C. B. Moore, Fairmont, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Church, returned home Friday. Mrs. Church accompanied her and will visit relatives and friends in P. m.

Pvt. Charles Blamer, en route from Camp Robinson, Ark., to Port Meade, stopped off for a few days visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Blamer, 91 Orchard street.

Seaman 1-c Douglas Shaffer, Portsmouth, Va., spent the weekend with his family here.

Petty Officer Boyd Oss who was home for several days has returned to Washington.

Seaman 1-c William West, Bainbridge is spending a short leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry West.

Agency Shiftings Also Stress Policy Trend

AN UNMISTAKABLE TREND in national policy has been put down in a nutshell by Senator E. H. Moore, (R-Okla.), which he declares makes it evident that the American people must choose between free enterprise and a "socialistic state."

This was made manifest by President Truman's recent message to the Congress. Senator Moore says "It is crystal clear," he said in a Senate speech, that the issue is "whether the free enterprise system is to continue or shall we continue the spending policies that lead to an ever-increasing deficit and ever-mounting debt, and directly to government ownership and a socialistic state."

Repeatedly since the president's message to Congress there have been evidences that, while some of the war agencies have been abolished, many government agencies have been merely transferred from one department of the government to the other, or where some agencies have been abolished, all their functions have been retained and so transferred.

The latest transference in kind, just announced, is the order by the president terminating the Foreign Economic Administration. While that is added as such, the most of its functions are at the same time transferred to the State, Commerce and Agriculture departments and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Transferred to the State department are the FEA functions involving administration of the Lend-Lease act, participation by the United States in UNRRA, and buying of certain strategic materials in liberated areas.

To the RFC are transferred the Rubber Development Corporation, Petroleum Reserves Corporation and the United States Commercial Company, as well as functions dealing with procurement of commodities abroad except for certain commodities over which the Agriculture department will have control.

The Commerce department will have charge of export control, the technical industrial intelligence committee working now under a directive of the United States Joint Chiefs of Staff, the facilitation of trade, foreign and domestic, as well as the functions of the clearing office for foreign transactions and reports.

Transferred to Agriculture are the functions of the Office of Foreign Food Programs and all other FEA programs involving food, food machinery and other food facilities. Some unification may be achieved by all such transfers, but it would appear that it is being achieved quite in disregard of the need for a reduction of nonessential governmental expenditures on which a few doubtful proponents have battled so long and valiantly, and with an intent and purpose to retain as many powers and privileges as possible. Such a reduction is imperative now that the war is over and the Congress is faced with the obligation of reducing heavy wartime taxation in order that reconversion may be hastened and normal business and industrial operations restored.

Constellations Mark New Air Travel Era

EVIDENCE that the nation is entering upon a new era of air travel continues to command space in the new columns. Air line report traffic at high levels. Rates are falling. And now four major companies have announced that they will soon put into service fleets of big, swift transports that will speed up schedules tremendously and permit flights over seas in fares for long.

These new planes, described as the largest and fastest land planes ever to be placed in service as commercial transports, are Lockheed Constellations. With a wingspan of 123 feet and an overall length of ninety-three feet, they will carry forty-three passengers on trans-oceanic flights and fifty-one overland. They will be capable of flying from New York to London in eleven hours.

Transcontinental and Western Airlines, one of the four companies, plans to use them on European flights and it has announced that they will make possible material reductions in present fares. At present the cost of flying from New York to London is $372, which is nearly four times the rate per mile charged on competing domestic lines. TWA plans to introduce "reasonable" fares for trans-Atlantic travel.

It will have competition, for Pan American World Airways has ordered fleets of Constellations and so have American Export Airlines and Eastern Airlines. The first two are prepared to use them on overseas routes and the other company apparently plans to operate them on continental runs. In the not far distant future these great ships of the air will be almost a commonplace sight as they roar through the skies on their appointed courses.

Atomic Bomb Experiment Is Awaited With Interest

THE NAGATO, 35,000-ton Jap battleship has been selected as the guinea pig for an experiment designed to test the potentialities of the atomic bomb as a weapon in naval warfare. The navy plans to tow the huge ship to the open sea, where it will be used as a target for one of the war-ending missiles.

Judging by its history, the Nagato should provide an excellent yardstick for measuring the destructive power of the atomic bomb when used against a modern battleship. It has been called "indestructible" because it withstood an attack by 500 American planes last July 18, suffering three direct bomb hits that did extensive but superficial damage. It should furnish answers to at least some of the navy's questions, whether it sinks or survives.

The navy wants to know if the battleship can sink a single battleship, and this experiment should settle any uncertainty on that score. It is not clear that it will show what damage an atomic bomb attack would do to a task force or whether it will be possible to judge the effect on the water, though the experts hope to be able to get information on both points.

In any case, the results will be awaited with keen interest. But laymen should be advised to avoid leaping to conclusions, whatever happens. Gen. Mitchell proved, as far back as 1921, that bombs dropped from airplanes could sink a battleship, but battleships did not disappear even though they are second in importance to aircraft carriers.

The atomic bomb undoubtedly will alter present concepts of naval warfare. But it has yet to be proved that it means the end of navies as essential elements in controlling the sea.

Pitfalls for War Veteran Farmers

IT IS ALL TOO LIKELY that bitter disillusionment awaits a large portion of the million and a half returning servicemen and the several hundred thousand displaced war workers who are dreaming of a farming career. Some of them can and will make a go of the venture and this group will consist largely of men who had experience in farming before the war. But the remainder should be warned of the difficulties they face.

One is that there are less than half enough farms in sight to go around among people who want to settle on the land. It is estimated that only 750,000 farms will become available during the next five years.

Even if there were enough farming land to meet the prospective demand, the new farmer would still face an extremely uncertain future. As was the case after the last war, demand for farm crops is destined to decrease. Marginal lands, put into crops to meet boom farm needs, will no longer be profitable. New technological developments are producing larger harvests with less manpower. Under these conditions the inexperienced farmer will have a hard row to hoe.

The would-be farmer, without farm experience, will need every possible break. Veterans with the farming bee in their bonnet have been urged to attend farm schools, but it is equally important that they be given a clear picture of the limited economic opportunities in agriculture, and that they be given preference in the disposal of lands now held by the government.

Some such program, carefully followed through, might help to save veterans from a great deal of heart-break and disappointment in the future.

War Bonds as Inheritances

IN CONNECTION WITH the public debt, which approximates $244,000,000 and is expected to touch $300,000,000 in a year, there is speculation whether the present War Bonds, and the instruments issued to replace them as they mature, will ever disappear.

More than a century and a quarter ago Europe was locked in the Napoleonic wars. They were in their time as destructive in Europe as World War II was in the Western Hemisphere. When they ended, both Britain and France at that time issued to their citizens instruments of indebtedness which are still in existence.

The British consols, representing money raised to keep Wellington in the field against Napoleon, have been handed down to generation after generation. The interest-bearing instruments are inheritances for sons and dowries for daughters.

During a violin solo a bolt of lightning struck the fiddle and burst its strings but the player was unhurt. This sounds like some of that "high criticism" we've been hearing about.

A motorcycle certainly has its advantage. For instance, the nose is so great that the pilot of a two-saddle affair can't hear a single word the back seat driver is saying.

CORNERSTONES OF HAPPINESS

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Every great civilization has started with the home, the school, and the Church as its foundation, and no nation can become great without them. They are the cornerstones of happiness.

When the early settlers came to the Western World, they first cleared the land, then they built a school and a church. In every community where there are plenty of homes, good schools, and many churches, it goes without speculation that that community is an intelligent and progressive one. And when I travel through many cities in many States, I never fail to note that the prosperous towns have neat-looking homes, substantial schools, and inspiring church spires.

It should be the ambition of every man to own his own home, no matter how humble. And it should be the ambition of everyone to know as much as possible, and to respect the great institution of the church.

The one who goes out into life from a good home can never quite adequately repay those who made it all that it was; and as for the associations formed in school, they are among the most valued in life. As to the church, it is one of the most steady and inspiring of all institutions. Not any particular sect or creed—just the church to which people go to enrich an impoverished heart!

Perhaps in our new postwar world, the time may come when nations will take the huge amounts they have spent on armaments and make it possible, through loans, for every man and woman to own a home of his or her own, and with a part of this money the more and better schools, pay all teachers more adequately, and then—because of the resultant contentment and happiness—inspire everyone with a desire to pay tribute to God in the church of his or her choice.

The chief cornerstone of all happiness, individually and nationally, however, is the home!

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Army Ignored Warnings of Belgian Bulge Attack by Germans, Drew Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Last week this column revealed that two military intelligence colonels in Washington warned their superiors that the Germans were about to launch the disastrous Belgian Bulge attack in December 1944, and urged that Gen. Eisenhower be put on guard. It was also revealed how this advice had been ignored with the result that American forces in the Ardennes forest were caught off-guard and their thin line of defense wiped out, resulting in 60,000 casualties and weeks of further warfare.

An additional chapter to this tragic blunder can now be told. On December 10, 1944, six days before the German surprise attack, Col. B. Albert Dickson, chief of intelligence for the Second Army, wrote a strong report to his superiors warning that a German offensive was coming. His report labeled "No. 37" is in the files of the War Department and is available to any Senate committee wanting to get the real truth regarding this blunder which cost so many American lives.

Convinced of Attack

Col. Dickson reported that from interviewing captured German prisoners, he was convinced they were planning a big attack. He reported a new spirit of jubilation enthused them on the part of the Germans. He interviewed a new determination to escape and go back to fight in the offensive. He even reported that the Germans were training men to infiltrate behind American lines as American soldiers.

It will be remembered that later, Nazi troops were found dressed in American uniforms behind our lines. Col. Dickson wrote a map showing villages where German reserves were billeted in preparation for the Belgian Bulge attack. And he urged that they be bombed out immediately. This recommendation was never followed. If it had been, the story of tragic American losses would have been different.

Instead, the Twelfth Army group wrote a report on December 12, refuting Col. Dickson's report of December 10. It replied that such an attack could not happen.

Later, on December 16, SHAEF, the headquarters of Gen. Eisenhower, wrote a G-2 "appreciation," stating that a German surprise attack could not happen. However, preference in the disposal of lands now held by the government.

So, later in the day, SHAEF hastily withdrew this "appreciation" and substituted three other pages, therefore, many of the original report, therefore, many of the original report, therefore, many of the original report.

It says here

By BOB HOPE

Almost everybody you meet nowadays is all hopped up about the new mechanical super-jadgets that will soon be bouncing around in the postwar world, so, before all the scientists and engineers work themselves into nervous breakdowns, I'd like to offer them, absolutely free, a few ideas of my own. For instance, why don't they build:

(1) A small, portable version of Boulder dam which would be hitched up to Betty Hutton and thereby harness enough energy to furnish free power to the entire state of California.

(2) A pair of elevator shoes for Fred Allen so he'll be tall enough to see over the bags under his eyes.

(3) A special time-clock that would positively prevent Hedy Lamarr's shades from being pulled down until 10:30 p. m. (I have to be home by then, anyway.)

(4) A pipeline from the blood bank to Sinatra's house, so he wouldn't have to wear himself out every morning walking down there.

(5) Rubber floors for the studios used in Sinatra's broadcasts. This would enable young girls to swoon and bounce right back into their seats without missing any of the program.

(6) A radar sending-set to fit inside Gary Cooper's hat when he goes walking, so approaching planes could have warning.

(7) An invisible death-ray to be turned on people who sit next to me in movies and hold social conversations, eat popcorn and/or hog the arm-rest.

(8) A harmless drug that would temporarily paralyze little babies in pictures and keep them from stealing scenes. (Same thing for dogs, cats, ponies, and Walter Brennan.)

(9) An automatic typewriter that could write this column for me.

Truman Deserts FDR

How drastically Harry Truman and Attorney General Tom Clark are deserting one of Franklin Roosevelt's principles was indicated by a recent incident which few people noticed.

One of the great battles Roosevelt fought was against the big utility companies. But the other day, a judge appointed by Truman to one of the most important courts in the country handled a case, even after his confirmation, on behalf of one of the big power companies. He is Judge Wilbur Miller, recently appointed to the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, which handles more important test cases than any other appeals court in the nation.

However, even after Miller was confirmed by the Senate, he appeared last week before the Federal Power Commission on behalf of the Kentucky Natural Gas Company. This makes it unanimous. For both of the other two judges Truman appointed to this important appeals court, ex-Senator Bennett Clark, of Missouri, and Barrett Prettynor, also have been attorneys for the big power companies or have been anti-public power.

Note—Bennett Clark was defeated by the Senate by the people of Missouri last year after many bitter years of isolationist opposition to Roosevelt's foreign policies. However, he worked valiantly for Truman's nomination at Chicago.

Movie Moguls

Last week a galaxy of the most powerful moguls of the movie world paid a visit on Attorney General Tom Clark. Probably no more high-priced men ever entered the attorney general's office at one time before in history. The group included:

Barney Balaban, head of Paramount; Albert Warner, of Warner Brothers; Nick Schenck, of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer; Spyros Skouras, head of Twentieth Century-Fox;

Envoy Is Needed At Buenos Aires, Lawrence Says

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Argentine problem presents opportunities for hazardous adventures in diplomacy and the new crisis can easily be turned to the advantage of the fascist elements in Buenos Aires if the American government adopts a unilateral policy of intrusion.

The one thing that will strengthen the totalitarian regime which is in power at present in Argentina would be a misguided effort on the part of the department of State to try to tell the Argentine people what to do or how to choose another administration.

The United States has withdrawn its ambassador from Buenos Aires. This is a critical time for the Washington government to be without a full-fledged representative here, but somebody in the administration here was apparently more interested in personnel changes at home than in the effect the withdrawal of an ambassador might have on the whole situation. This is one of the penalties of the political party system when applied to the department of State.

Braden an Important Factor

Spruille Braden, who comes here to become assistant secretary of state, was an important factor in the Argentine situation, but he can do very little from Washington compared to the exercise of American influence on the spot. The sending of another ambassador at once is vital to the preservation of American influence and, while it was first announced officially that there would be a hiatus, this was reversed and a promise made that the post would not go unfilled for long.

Meanwhile the United States and the other Pan-American countries which acted together to extend recognition to the new government (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

School Feature Returns to Radio Network Today

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP)—"School of the Air" CBS feature on the daytime schedule for fifteen years, comes back on Monday for another season. In doing so it will have a new time, 5 p. m., eliminating the former lineup of 9-15 a. m. for the east and 2-30 p. m. for the Midwest. The change is announced as putting the program at the "peak listening time for young people." It will run as usual Monday through Thursday, the Monday series to tell the story of America.

MBS is making some more changes in its schedule, particularly the daytime. Among them are: 10 a. m. "News for Women" with Ken Powell; 10:15 "Faith in Our Time," new religious series; 11:45 Postponed start of Victor Lindahl's food talks; 12:30 p. m. Hymn series by Richard Maxwell; 2:15 p. m. Jane Cowell's time cut to ten minutes to give Cliff Edwards a sponsored five minutes at 2:25.

With the world series in the offing, "Information Please" is turning to a couple of radio sports experts for its NBC guests at 9:30. They are Red Barber and Bill Slater who specialize in baseball and football talking.

will resume in the "Radio Supper Club" on NBC at 7.

Bette Davis is to have the acting co-operation of Pal Henreid when she appears in a "Radio Theater" script of "Mr. Skeffington" on CBS at 9.

Community Chest, War Fund Goal Is Set at $118,671

Total Is $2,000 above Last Year's Campaign Quota, Smith Reports

The joint committee of the National War Fund campaign in Allegany county and the Cumberland Community Chest met yesterday afternoon and set the goal of the forthcoming drive at $118,671.35, Edmund S. Burke, chairman, presided at the meeting.

According to H. W. Smith, president of the Community Chest, this year's figure represents an increase of about $2,000 over last year's quota with the increase being made in the Community Chest.

With the goal set at $118,671.35, it was announced that $60,525 will be allocated to the Community Chest and $58,146.35 to the war fund.

Contributions in the county, other than in the City of Cumberland, will go to the war fund 100 per cent, it was announced.

This fall's drive will be the last campaign in which the National War Fund will participate, it was announced.

Henry W. Price, chairman of this year's joint campaign, has announced that the campaign office will be opened next Monday in the Liberty Trust building.

Five Soldiers Win Discharges

Four local men and a Grantsville soldier have been discharged from the army or placed on inactive duty with the AAF.

Lt. John S. Ketzner, 302 Louisiana avenue, a former B. and O. brakeman, has been placed on inactive status with the air corps reserves. A navigator with the Eighth AAF, he was imprisoned by the Germans ten months.

Staff Sgt. Howard F. Buirge, a former resident, was discharged from the army after service since March, 1943.

Staff Sgt. William E. Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Winters, 305 Paca street, has been discharged following service with the Third Army in the ETO. He entered the army four years ago.

Technical Sgt. Paul A. Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nicholson, 201 Grand avenue, has been discharged from the air forces. He served fourteen months with the Eighth AAF as a radio operator aboard a B-24 and holds the Air Medal with three clusters, the DFC with a cluster, the Distinguished Unit Citation and the Good Conduct Medal.

Pfc. John V. Blocher, 32 son of Vincent L. Blocher, Grantsville, has been discharged from the AAF after forty-five months in the service. He served overseas in the CBI theater until last October.

Post, Helfrich Have Argument About Streets

Commissioner Tells Mayor He Needs Support, Not Complaining

Mayor Thomas S. Post Saturday informed Street Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich that city streets, with the exception of the ones that have been resurfaced, are in the worst condition he has ever seen them.

Helfrich said he could point a finger at the man responsible and he pointed at the mayor. The commissioner then informed the mayor that he needed support and not complaining.

Helfrich said blacktopping on Virginia avenue will be resumed the middle of next week. Some work on Queen street will follow and Baltimore street is scheduled for resurfacing next Sunday, Helfrich said he hoped to complete Baltimore street in one day and if that is not possible the remaining portion will be carried over to the following Sunday.

In the meantime, operations are planned for Centre and Mechanic streets, Helfrich said Goethe street needs resurfacing and also that there are a number of other streets that need like treatment "or there will be no streets left there at the end of another winter."

The mayor mentioned Pennsylvania avenue and Commissioner James Orr talked of the needs for Goethe street. Helfrich said he planned to patch Winewood street.

"If you can patch Winewood, you can patch residential streets," Commissioner William E. McDonald said.

Helfrich said patching is not possible for Goethe, Wallace, Magruder and Mr. View Drive. McDonald insisted that patching would do and that the spending of unnecessary funds could be averted.

It was at this point that Mayor Post told Helfrich that he "wasn't making much progress." Helfrich said Mayor Post had favored patching instead of resurfacing when the program was first proposed and that later he opposed passage of an ordinance to sell bonds.

Post told Helfrich he had better do something about getting another catch basin on Hill Top Drive at Montgomery avenue before the city is sued. Helfrich said various projects have to wait their turn.

Mrs. Leroy Snyder Is Slightly Burned When Stove Explodes

A gas explosion in the kitchen of the Dairy Dip Restaurant, 216 Decatur street, last night resulted in Mrs. Leroy Snyder being taken across the street to Allegany hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Snyder received burns on the face and arms at 6:05 p. m. when there was an explosion when she opened the stove's oven door. Central and East Side firemen who were called were at a loss to explain the cause of the explosion.

A physician who treated Mrs. Snyder at the hospital said the burns were not serious and were only superficial in nature. She was treated and released.

According to Mrs. Agnes Smith, owner of the restaurant, the explosion did not cause any damage in the kitchen. Mrs. Snyder caught the full impact of the blast.

Local Legionnaires Return from Attending Committee Meeting

Cumberland area Legionnaires returned to Cumberland this weekend after attending a Maryland Department executive committee and national convention delegate meeting in Baltimore.

Those who attended are Frank Powers, Frostburg, Mountain District vice commander; Daniel F. McMillen, Port Cumberland Post No. 13, past department commander; G. R. Lippold, past commander of Port Cumberland Post; Samuel A. Graham, commander Port Cumberland Post, and Russell C. Paupé, Port Cumberland adjutant.

McMillen and Lippold are delegates to the national convention in Chicago November 18 to 21. The others are executive committee members.

No Trace Is Found Of Hit-run Driver

State police reported yesterday that no trace has been found of the hit-run driver, struck M. W. Skelly, 68 Route 3, Keyser, W. Va., near the Celanese plant Saturday afternoon.

Skelly was admitted to Allegany hospital suffering from lacerations of the left cheek and forehead. His left arm was X-rayed Saturday to determine the extent of injury.

Skelly was crossing the highway when he was struck. Trooper Harry A. Holsinger investigated.

Benjamin North Will Retire Today

Benjamin R. North, 505 Maryland avenue, who has been employed by the Potomac Edison Company since January 10, 1917, will retire today.

North was a meter man until 1937 when he was promoted to be assistant superintendent of the meter department. A native of Allegany county, North is a member of the P. E. employees' Quarter Century Club, his term of service numbering twenty-eight years.

Legion Opposes Experimenting On Living Dogs

Veterans Will Send Resolution to Beall Asking Bill's Passage

Members of Port Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, are preparing a resolution to be presented to Rep. J. Glenn Beall urging that a bill now pending in Congress to prohibit experiments on living dogs in the District of Columbia be passed.

The resolution points out that the K-9 Corps has become a necessary and regular unit of the army, navy and coast guard and the dog has proved his outstanding and irreplaceable service to the war effort, again demonstrating his remarkable intelligence and his loyalty and devotion to man.

The resolution hints at "the uncontrolled and indiscriminate use of the dog in painful experiments as practiced in this country without any of the legal restrictions enforced in Britain and other countries."

The Legion has been distributing literature which states that anaesthetics are used on dogs in experiments only five per cent of the time and that dogs have been tied down for long periods with their abdomens cut open so that vivisectionists could observe the working of their inner organs.

The Legion is also pointing out the fact that a number of medical magazines have spoken up against the practice and quoted Dr. Virgil Holland, Moon, internationally famous scientist, who said that many vivisectionists are "going around in circles in needless laboratory experiments, wasting time and dogs and confusing the world of science and surgery."

The mayor mentioned Pennsylvania avenue and Commissioner James Orr talked of the needs for Goethe street. Helfrich said he planned to patch Winewood street.

"If you can patch Winewood, you can patch residential streets," Commissioner William E. McDonald said.

Helfrich said patching is not possible for Goethe, Wallace, Magruder and Mr. View Drive. McDonald insisted that patching would do and that the spending of unnecessary funds could be averted.

It was at this point that Mayor Post told Helfrich that he "wasn't making much progress." Helfrich said Mayor Post had favored patching instead of resurfacing when the program was first proposed and that later he opposed passage of an ordinance to sell bonds.

Local Commander, Liaison Officer, Served with SACO

Now that the curtain has lifted on that fabulous organization which was the eyes and ears of Allied intelligence in the Orient known as "SACO" it has been revealed that the husband of a Cumberland woman served in the unit, namely Commander Walter C. Ebert, married here last spring to the former Miss Jane Golden, daughter of Mrs. James C. Shriver, Commander Ebert's mother is Mrs. Cora Little Ebert who operates the S. T. Little Jewelry Store here.

Commander Ebert was a liaison officer between submarine patrols and the coastal spy system of the fabulous Sino-American organization. Personnel of the "Rice Paddy Navy," popular term for the United States Navy men involved, teamed with Chinese guerrillas to man hundreds of watching posts, each equipped with a radio transmitter. Often the Americans disguised themselves as Orientals.

Only after the war ended could the story of SACO officially, the "Sino-American Co-operative Organization" be told. It ranks with the feats of Office of Strategic Service operatives in Europe and South East Asia.

SACO began as a United States Navy weather reporting post, according to an Associated Press story. Fourteen weather stations were set up, one as far north as the edge of the Gobi desert. To secure weather reports from the Japanese-occupied Chinese coast, the American men began to work with Chinese guerrillas. By the end of 1942 their information was figuring importantly in the planning of navy carrier strikes.

In 1943 SACO was created in its present form under an agreement signed by the Chinese Foreign Minister T. V. Soong and the late Frank Knox, at that time secretary of the navy.

The Japanese offered several million dollars to anyone killing either of the two top leaders of the organization.

B. and O. Will Be Asked to Repair Crossings, Bridges

Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, was authorized by the mayor and city council at a meeting Saturday, to notify the Baltimore and Ohio railroad to take immediate steps to repair crossings and bridges in the city. The action was taken at the suggestion of James Orr, Police and Fire Commissioner.

Water insolventies totaling $277.50 were granted for the period between April 1 and September 19.

William Landaker was ordered paid $39.50 for catching dog at $1 a piece and building a dog trap for $6.50.

Mrs. Eleanor C. Burros was ordered paid $182.50 for damages to a cellar in a house at 208 Central avenue. The floor was destroyed when sewer repairs were made.

Announcement was made Saturday that three clerks of the Cumberland War Price and Rationing Board have been dismissed as a result of the curtailment of the functions of the Office of Price Administration. Further cuts in personnel are expected. OPA officials said. Two of the employees dismissed yesterday have been employed at the board since 1942. The other had been employed since last January.

Thomas Densmore, 27, Dies at Vet Hospital

Thomas Franklin Densmore, 27, son of Mrs. Martha Clise Densmore, Dellsboro, near Morgantown, W. Va., died yesterday at the veterans' hospital, Port Howard, Md., where he had been a patient since July 6.

Mrs. Densmore leaves his mother and the following sisters and brothers: Miss Virginia Densmore, at home; Mrs. Agnes Hoffman, Washington; Raymond E. Densmore, Morgantown; and Sgt. David H. Densmore, Port Oglethorpe, Ga., now on a thirty-day furlough with his wife Edith Densmore, Baltimore, formerly of Cumberland.

Mrs. Densmore was a son of the late Edgar W. Densmore. Services will be held from his home, Dellsboro, Wednesday.

Chamber of Commerce Committee Is Seeking Data on Sites for Plants

Survey Will Be Made within a Twenty Mile Radius of Cumberland

Owen E. Hitchins, chairman of the Industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, has announced that the chamber is seeking data on available sites for plants within a twenty-mile radius of Cumberland.

The committee plans to make an intensive survey of the area in an attempt to make a listing of plots of fifty acres or more. Most modern plants are one-story affairs and considerable ground is needed.

After the data is compiled it will be placed on file with engineering and factory locating concerns.

Broader Industry Needed At a meeting of the committee Friday, H. W. Smith, chamber secretary, reported that Cumberland had a steady, substantial growth during the last two decades. It has suffered less from economic changes than any other community with which the secretary is familiar.

Smith said that the city's weakness "lies in the fact that our employment is confined to a comparatively small number of manufacturing units. However, time has shown the large units are less susceptible to operation fluctuations than the smaller manufacturers. Nevertheless, we need, if possible, to broaden our industry."

The report continues: "The last ten years the employment in our seventeen major industries has increased from 13,247 to 18,000. The payroll on these same industries, over the same period of time, has increased from $1,200,000 to $3,000,000, notwithstanding the fact that four of the units which were included in our figures ten years ago, and which, at that time employed 1,000 people, have ceased to exist—Footers Dye Works, N. and G. Taylor Co., Union Tanning Company, and the Klotz Throwing Company."

"The employment and payroll figures listed above do not take into consideration the Ballistics Laboratory nor the State Tent and Canvas Company where approximately 800 people were employed. It is anticipated that both of these plants will cease operation."

Employment Increases "During this same period, employment in service and distributive trades has increased steadily. The present number is approximately 2,500."

It is obvious from these figures that the number of persons employed in Cumberland is more than fifty per cent of the population of the city; extremely high in employment density. This, of course, is due to the fact that Cumberland reaches out over a large area for labor. During the same ten-year period, there has been some decrease in employment in the county outside of the Cumberland area.

Services today will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Interment will be in Rose Hill cemetery.

Palbearers will be Judge Harlan Calhoun, Moorefield, W. Va., Roy Mickey, Centerville, Pa., Richard Duval, Henry Dreesman, James Rexroad and Chester Brandt.

Services were conducted at the home last night by Cumberland Lodge of Elks.

Circuit Court To Open Today

The October term of circuit court will open today when veniremen will report at 10 a. m. Associate Judge Walter C. Capper will preside. Chief Judge William A. Huster, who has been ill, will be called with the veniremen at the bar in attendance.

This will be the first jury term since April, and it was indicated by court officers that the criminal docket may be heavier than usual, judging by the number of cases in the lower courts awaiting grand jury action. No major crimes, however, are listed by county authorities.

It was announced Saturday that in the event it becomes necessary, Associate Judge Joseph D. Misch will come here from Hagerstown to assist Judge Capper.

Local News in Brief

Henry Shriver, III, first member of the Cumberland Rotary Club to be released from military service, will speak at the meeting of the club tomorrow at 12:15 p. m. in Central YMCA. Shriver will talk about his experiences in the army.

Ambrose A. Durkin, district deputy grand exalted ruler of the BPO Elks will pay his official visit to Cumberland Lodge No. 63 on Wednesday, October 17. An initiation of several candidates will be held that night. Following the meeting a buffet luncheon will be served to the members according to James E. Yarnall, secretary.

The last scheduled concert of the Local Order of Moose Band in the regular summer series was called off last night due to cold weather. It was scheduled to be held at River-side Park.

Announcement was made Saturday that three clerks of the Cumberland War Price and Rationing Board have been dismissed as a result of the curtailment of the functions of the Office of Price Administration. Further cuts in personnel are expected. OPA officials said. Two of the employees dismissed yesterday have been employed at the board since 1942. The other had been employed since last January.

A meeting of the Allegany County Automobile Dealers Association will hold a luncheon meeting in Central YMCA today at 12:15 p. m.

Sixteen prize draft horses, all choice stock from Bucyrus, O., will be sold at auction at tomorrow's weekly sale at the Cumberland Stockyards. It was announced yesterday. The stock to be sold includes one pony and one high class riding horse.

Lt. Col. Randolph Millholland, recently returned from army service in Europe, will be the speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions club at 12:15 p. m. Wednesday in Central YMCA.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the Hagerman home for Lewis Franklin Livingood, 74 Bowman's Addition, who died Thursday night at his home. Interment will be in Davis Memorial church cemetery. The Rev. John L. Stewart, pastor of the Assembly of God church, will officiate.

Funeral services for John P. Conway, 70, 72 Pershing street, were held Saturday at the Wolford funeral home with the Rev. David C. Watson, rector of Emmanuel Episcopal church, officiating. Interment was in Rose Hill cemetery.

Palbearers were J. C. Wolford, C. L. George, John Manley, James Perrin, S. E. Grant and Eugene Perrin. Among those attending the services were W. A. Conway, Dayton, Ohio; Mrs. S. E. Grant, Mrs. Emma Flora, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Connor, all of Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Guy Flora, Elkins, W. Va., and Mrs. Emma Martin, Brunswick.

Uhl is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna Weismiller Uhl, formerly of Cumberland; four other daughters besides Mrs. Martz, Mrs. Silas Robinson, 77, near Artemas, Pa., died Saturday morning at his home after an illness of one week.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Maria Wigfield Robinson, two sisters, Mrs. George Lehman, Buck Valley, Pa.; Mrs. Samantha Ritchey, Bedford, Pa., and the following children, Herman and Kelly Robinson, Cumberland; Lester Robinson, Baltimore; Oscar Barnes, Mrs. Earl Smith, Maryland; and Lavada and Mary O. Robinson, Hagerstown.

Seventeen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive. Funeral services will be held in Fairview Christian church at 11 a. m. Tuesday with the Rev. W. W. Twigg officiating. Interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

LYNDA MARIA MAYS Lynnda Marie Mays, eleven-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis M. Mays, Buffalo Mills, Rd. 1, died yesterday morning in Allegany hospital. The parents and a brother, Rose Ray Mays, survive.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Lybarger Lutheran church with the Rev. W. J. Lloyd officiating. Burial will be in Madley cemetery.

Drive Ends Today Central YMCA's membership campaign will end with a dinner report meeting today at 6:14 p. m. and Robert L. Sisson, general secretary, said last night he is hopeful the quota of 400 memberships and $4,000 will be exceeded.

Long Service Pins Are Presented Six Members of BRT

Connellsville Lodge President Presides at Presentation and Initiation

Pins denoting continuous service of a total of 215 years were presented to six members of William McKaig Lodge, No. 440, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, at two meetings held yesterday in the Eagles home.

Initiation of eight candidates, five the 11 a. m. meeting and three at the 7:30 p. m. meeting, also marked the sessions.

The initiation and presentation of the pins was conducted by S. T. Ervin, 83, president of Youghiogheny Lodge, No. 218, Connellsville, Pa., for the past thirty years. He was assisted by R. T. Miller, Hagerstown, chairman of the legislative board.

Transfer Gets Pin Continuous membership pins were presented to William Everett, Detroit, Mich., and James M. Phillips, Fort Myer, Va., both twenty-three years; W. A. Cesna, thirty-five years; Harry R. Hotchkiss, twenty-five years, and Robert D. Smith, thirty-five years.

The latter is a transfer member from Lodge No. 497, Brunswick. Among the candidates initiated was Leo E. P. Law, son of E. W. Law, president of William McKaig Lodge, No. 440, Hagerstown, 1913. The younger Law was discharged from the army on June 7 after serving in the European theater of war for one year. He went to work as a yard brakeman for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad on June 14.

Other men initiated yesterday were E. N. Nines, C. E. Nail, P. C. Niland, E. E. Devore, W. C. Wiese, J. W. Early and R. E. Leighty.

Law, president of the lodge, reported last night that Martin Quarters, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, died Friday. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. today.

Will Attend Funeral Scheduled to attend the funeral from Cumberland are E. D. Burner, Lodge 267, local committeeman of the Third division; C. C. Cliffe, Lodge 440, local committeeman of the Connellsville division; and J. L. Pownall, Lodge 440, yard committeeman.

Visitors attending the meetings besides Ervin and Miller were S. A. McMurray, Baltimore, field supervisor of the BRT; Marshall T. Virts, president of Eastern Lodge, 1020, Keyser, W. Va., and W. E. Coffman, local committeeman of Brunswick Lodge 497.

Thirty-eight men attended the morning session and forty-two the evening meeting.

James Gibbons, Mrs. George Wagoner, Mrs. Edward Conway and Miss Catherine Uhl, all of Syracuse; three sons, Frank and John Uhl, Syracuse; Aug. August F. Uhl, daughter; Fitzsimmons general hospital, Denver, Col.; twenty-six grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren. Mr. Uhl's first wife died thirty-five years ago.

The body will be interred in Assumption cemetery, Syracuse.

MARTIN E. KILROY A requiem mass will be held in St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9 a. m. Wednesday for Martin Francis Kilroy, 76, 424 Greene street, who died suddenly Saturday at 9 p. m. at his home. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Born at Elk Garden, W. Va., Mr. Kilroy was a son of the late Thomas and Bridgett Rowan Kilroy. He came to Cumberland in 1913 from Meyersdale, Pa., and worked a few years for the Baltimore and Ohio railroad before accepting employment in the car repair shops of the Western Maryland railway.

In 1922 Mr. Kilroy left the Western Maryland and went to work at the Celanese plant where he was employed until his retirement in June of this year.

Known as "Daddler" and "Pop," Mr. Kilroy had many friends on the West Side. His Irish wit and humor were equally well known.

Mr. Kilroy was a member of St. Patrick's Catholic church, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America.

Mr. and Mrs. Kilroy celebrated their fifty-first wedding anniversary in June.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Fannie Kelly Kilroy, he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Leona Ford, and three sons, Edward Kilroy, Staff Sgt. Hugh Kilroy and Cpl. John Kilroy, all of Cumberland.

One brother, Bartley Kilroy, Cumberland; a sister, George Middleton, Keyser, W. Va., ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild also survive.

SILAS ROBINSON Silas Robinson, 77, near Artemas, Pa., died Saturday morning at his home after an illness of one week.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Maria Wigfield Robinson, two sisters, Mrs. George Lehman, Buck Valley, Pa.; Mrs. Samantha Ritchey, Bedford, Pa., and the following children, Herman and Kelly Robinson, Cumberland; Lester Robinson, Baltimore; Oscar Barnes, Mrs. Earl Smith, Maryland; and Lavada and Mary O.
